

A photograph of two young men with curly hair, wearing brown hoodies, standing in a school hallway and facing each other. The hallway has lockers on the right and a window at the end. Overlaid on the image are various yellow hand-drawn doodles: stars, circles, 'x' marks, and arrows. Some arrows point towards the center where the two men are standing, while others point away. The text 'YOUR NEXT MOVE MATTERS' is overlaid on the lower left of the image.

YOUR NEXT MOVE MATTERS

Conflict happens.

Your next decision can change everything. Every fight begins with a choice. Every argument has another option. Pause. Think. Make the move that protects your future, your friends, and your community.
